RECIPE OF THE MONTH

4th of July Truffles

INGREDIENTS

- 36 Oreo cookies
- 8 ounces cream cheese softened
- 1 pound white almond bark
- 6 ounces red candy melts
- 6 ounces blue candy melts
- Sprinkles

INSTRUCTIONS

- Line a baking sheet with parchment paper. Set aside.
- Using a food processor or large resealable bag and a rolling pin, crush the cookies into fine crumbs.
- In a large bowl, add the cookie crumbs and softened cream cheese. Mix together until well combined.
- Using a small cookie dough scoop, form into a ball.
- Roll the ball between your hands until it's smooth.
- Place on the prepared baking sheet.
- Chill in the refrigerator for at least 30 minutes, longer is fine.
- Break the almond bark into squares and place it in a microwave-safe bowl.
- Start heating it in the microwave for 1 minute, stir the chocolate.
- Continue to heat for 10-20 seconds at a time, stirring after each time. Stop when there are a few bits of chocolate left, then stir until completely melted.
- Using a fork, dip a chilled Oreo ball into the melted chocolate and tap off the excess.
- Place on the prepared baking sheet.
- Let harden for about 10-15 minutes.
- Repeat with another layer of melted chocolate if necessary.
- Let harden while you prepare the colored chocolate.
- In 2 separate microwave-safe bowls, add candy melts.
- Start heating in the microwave for 30 seconds, stir the chocolate.
- Heat for 10-20 seconds at a time, stirring after each time. Stop when there are a few bits of chocolate left, then stir until completely melted.
- Transfer melted chocolate to plastic squeeze bottles.
- Drizzle the chocolate over the top of the Oreo Truffles making red and blue chocolate designs of your choice.
- Immediately add the sprinkles, if desired.
- Store in an airtight container in the refrigerator until ready to serve.

Tech Support Scams

SECURITY CORNER

Tech Support/Electronic Scams are becoming more popular in today's tech-driven world. First Federal/Home Building Savings Bank wants to help our customers identify phone calls or messages attempting to steal your identify or compromise your device.

Here's how they work: You may get a call or message from someone who says they're a computer technician or a number appears in a popup message on your screen. You may even be looking for tech support and find a phone number on a search engine. The person on the phone says they're from a well-known company like Microsoft or Apple and inform you of viruses or malware on your computer. They may request remote access to your computer or say you must buy new software to fix it.

Are they truly someone you can trust? Tech support scammers will try to sell you useless services, steal your credit or debit card number, or get access to your computer to install malware, which could give them access to everything on your computer (including your account passwords).

Here's what to do:

1. Hang up. If you get an unexpected call from someone saying there's a problem with a computer - hang up. It's a scam. If you need tech help, go to someone you know and trust and call a phone number you know to be true. The ones that show up in your search engine aren't always legit.
2. Pass this information on to a friend. You might know these are scammers, but chances are, you know someone who doesn't.
